When restrictions change, what does that mean for gatherings at Burwood? We value meeting together and want to do that in a safe way. When a new announcement is made by the government, they will outline the restrictions for religious gatherings. These determine how we gather. Below there are the four common scenarios based on density quotients (ratios). When the government announces new density quotients for religious gatherings, you can see below what's on at Burwood. The teams need a week to prepare for a service so you will receive a weeks notice before holding a Worship Service onsite. Save this to your phone or print it out and put it on the fridge! Updates will also be announced in the Burwood Newsletter and website.
